We believe:
That faith in God gives meaning
and purpose to human life;
That the brotherhood of man
transcends the sovereignty of nations;
That economic justice can best be won
by free man through free enterprise;
That government should be of laws
rather than of men;
That earth's great treasure
lies in human personality;
And that service to humanity;
is the best work of life.

MESSAGE FROM GUEST OF HONOUR

Along with its traditional respect for the elderly, Chinese culture emphasizes the importance of working for the next generation, preparing young people for their coming roles in society. The Hong Kong Junior Chamber of Commerce is dedicated to training the future leaders of Hong Kong. The Junior Chamber is also connected with Jaycees International and thus helps promote Hong Kong's worldwide trade and economic ties.

The selection of Hong Kong's Ten Outstanding Young Persons is one of the most important annual events for the Junior Chamber. The ten young leaders selected this year represent the best of local society. They are the men and women who will tackle the problems that arise as Hong Kong changes from colony to Special Administrative Region. The city needs energetic, bold young leaders to make this transition successful. This year's Jaycee Award winners represent just that proper combination of energy and daring. Young people like this provide strong assurance for Hong Kong's future. I am delighted to participate as Guest of Honour at this year's Awards Presentation Banquet.

MESSAGE FROM SPONSOR

MESSAGE FROM NATIONAL PRESIDENT, HONG KONG JUNIOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Larry Lau
National President

On behalf of the Hong Kong Junior Chamber of Commerce I would like to send my warmest congratulations to the ten recipients of the 1990 Ten Outstanding Young Persons Selection.

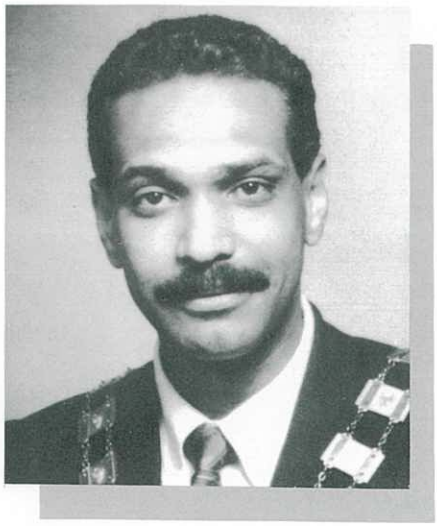

The Outstanding Young Persons Award aims to give proper recognition to the distinguished attainments of young people between 21 and 40 and to reinforce in them a commitment towards the betterment of our society. It is hoped that other young people will be inspired and motivated by the hard-earned outstanding achievement of the awardees so as to take positive steps to change and improve themselves and the society at large.

Hong Kong is in need of people who are determined to excel themselves in their jobs and at the same time contribute their best efforts to serve the community. During the run-up to 1997 every citizen, in particular young people, must work to the best of their ability to ensure Hong Kong will remain stable and prosperous. We cannot rely on outside forces to help us get through this difficult transition period; we can only rely on self-help. Let us start with the Jaycees and the Outstanding Young Persons.

I take this opportunity to thank the panel of judges, selection consultant, sponsor and the hardworking organizing committee for their contributions which make the 1990 Ten Outstanding Young Persons Selection a great success.

Finally I wish all the outstanding young persons all the best in their future endeavours and participants in the 1990 TOYP Award Presentation Ceremony an enjoyable evening.

MESSAGE FROM JCI WORLD PRESIDENT

E, Jorge Suncar M.
1990 President
Junior Chamber International

I am very pleased to be given the opportunity to send my best wishes to the Hong Kong Junior Chamber of Commerce on the occasion of your 1990 TOYP Awards Presentation.

I would like to congratulate all of you for your achievements this year. When we give our best to our organization and our community, we gain for ourselves far more, namely, self-esteem and the satisfaction of achievement.

I encourage you to take advantage of all that Junior Chamber offers, both the opportunities and the challenges. Your participation and successes will be the proof that Junior Chamber is a positive force among people with ambition and a will for personal improvement.

I wish the TOYP program in Hong Kong continued success, and I would like to take this special opportunity to assure you of my full support and warmest regards.

MESSAGE FROM JCI EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

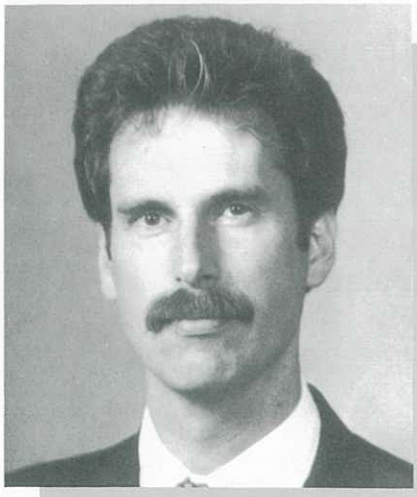

Harry C. Angping
Executive Vice President
Junior Chamber International

It gives me great pleasure to extend my greetings and warmest congratulations to the Hong Kong Ten Outstanding Young Persons Selection.

The history of the world is nothing but the life stories of men who excelled. This is or should be the reason for the Ten Outstanding Young Persons (TOYP) project, an excellent one. We celebrate young men who made their mark because in our time of twisted values and youthful delinquency we need models of excellence and integrity.

Over the past years, the TOYP has become an establish institution that successfully gives recognition to the young men of our nation who have excelled in their chosen fields of endeavour. It, therefore, serves to encourage not only the awardees but their colleagues as well, so as to aspire for greater excellence and socially relevant accomplishments. It is, therefore, only fitting that we also commend the Hong Kong Junior Chamber of Commerce for a most laudable undertaking.

MESSAGE FROM JCI VICE PRESIDENT

Jim McMahon
Vice President
Junior Chamber International

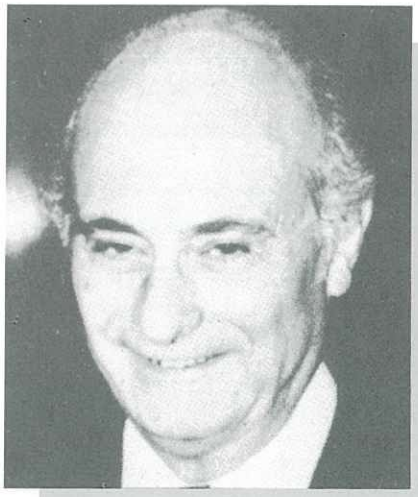

It is indeed a pleasure to send greetings to you on this happy occasion, the recognition of Outstanding Young leaders at TOYP 1990. May I offer my congratulations to each of the most deserving recipients of this honor.

A special thank you to Sir David Ford, Chief Secretary and Patron for this event and certainly the sponsors, CitiBank for their assistance and generosity in making this event possible.

My very best wishes for a delightful event and continued success for the future to all who are involved.

Sincerely

MESSAGE FROM HON. LIFE PRESIDENT

This community stands now in great need of young men and women of proven ability and dedication to,work together for Hong Kong already emerging in its new polity.

MESSAGE FROM SENATE CHAIRMAN, HONG KONG JUNIOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Junia Ho
Senate Chairman and

The Selection of Ten Outstanding Young Persons each year presents the young people with a spirit of emulation in furthering personal achievements as well as contributing to the community.

The award winners this year have achieved in a short time what many will not accomplish in a lifetime. By giving out these prestigeous awards to the outstanding achievers we are encouraging all the young people to emulate their examples.

I sincerely hope that they all will continue to maintain the standard of excellence that they have demonstrated to the young people of Hong Kong. With their joint efforts, I am sure that they will help build Hong Kong into a thriving metropolis.

MESSAGE FROM TRUSTEE CHAIRMAN, HONG KONG JUNIOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Paul T.S. Yin
Trustee Chairman

The Jaycee is the finest organization for young people in the pursuit of leadership training, community service and international understanding for a better world.

On the auspicious occasion of the Awards Presentation Banquet of 10 Outstanding Young People, may I appeal to Jaycees and friends to call on more young people to join in the big family so that we will work jointly towards a better tomorrow for Hong Kong.

MESSAGE FROM SUPERVISING OFFICER, HONG KONG JUNIOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Rosa Chan
National Vice President

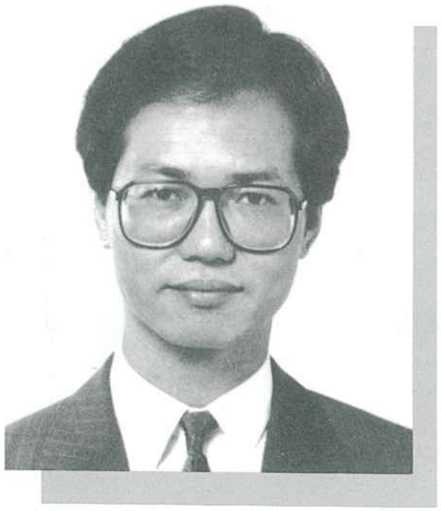

It is my honour and pleasure to extend my heartfelt congratulations to the first batch of outstanding young persons receiving this award in the nineties. The lovely music and the appreciative applause signifies the due recognition of their achievements by the community.

The future of Hong Kong lies in the hands of its young people. In the run-up to 1997 and beyond, Hong Kong should be even more active in developing and cultivating its future leaders to lead Hong Kong into a smooth transition. These ten awardees, who have achieved their successes through self-struggle and determination, provide very good references and motivation for young people to dedicate themselves in making Hong Kong the same lovable home as ever.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the capable chairman of this selection Peter Kam and his excellent organizing committee in making this selection an outstanding one. My sincere gratitude also goes to all who have lent support to this meaningful project.

Finally, I wish you all have a very memorable and enjoyable evening.

MESSAGE FROM CHAIRMAN, THE OUTSTANDING YOUNG PERSONS' ASSOCIATION

Mr Chu Pui Hing

Each year, Hong Kong honours its young men and women for their outstanding achievement in their respective fields of endeavour and service to the community. On behalf of the Outstanding Young Persons' Association (TOYPA), I extend my warmest congratulations to the ten prominent individuals receiving the TOYP Award this year. The encouragement given to the awardees would further stimulate their desire to service our society.

Since its inception in 1977, TOYPA has been recruiting quality members and uniting the efforts of past awardees for the betterment of our society. Chan Wai-fong, Esther 陳 慧 芳

Hand in Hand – Professional Devotion and Community Involvement

Esther comes from a traditional middle-class family and as the only child, she had the opportunity to have a good education. Because of her artistic talent, Esther was determined to become an architect at an early age. She received her Bachelor of Architecture degree from the University of Hong Kong and furthered her studies at the Royal Australian Institute of Architects, the Hong Kong Institute of Architects and the Royal Institute of British Architects respectively. Today, Esther heads her own architects firm and actively participates in community affairs in Hong Kong.

It is rather unusual for a woman to rise to such prominence in the architectural field. After 10 years of solid work experience, Esther decided to establish her own firm in 1983 and has since built a successful practice involved in local and overseas projects. On top of her professional commitment, Esther also volunteers her skills and services to various social organizations.

Esther has been a member of the Central and Western District Board since 1985. In 1987, she became involved in the Hong Kong Association for the Advancement of Science and Technology, a movement devoted to advancing technology advancement between China and Hong Kong for mutual economic benefit.

Of equal importance is her involvement in the Town Planning Board where she is able to make a valuable contribution to the development of Hong Kong. She was also appointed to the Consumer Council in 1989 where she feels her expertise in architecture is particularly useful in framing the Property Transaction Ordinance in Hong Kong.

Flora, Elizabeth Cheong-Leen
張 天 愛

From Ballerina to Entrepreneur ..... Proven Success in All Her Endeavours

Despite her wealthy background, Flora has been through a lot of ups and downs in her life but has every time managed to meet challenges head-on to demonstrate her talent, capability and personal integrity.

Flora left home at a young age when she was one of the ten chosen from an entry of 5,000 to obtain a position at the Royal Ballet School in England. The death of her mother however caused her to reassess her career. On return to Hong Kong, she first became a freelance model and eventually landed on a short-lived career, at the age of 20, in the film industry — a period which Flora openly acknowledges as "an experience."

Shortly afterwards, Flora turned to the fashion manufacturing and retailing industry where she has become extremely successful as an entrepreneur. From a small retail outlet located off Wyndham Street, the new firm markets its fashion goods under an established brand with nine shops in Hong Kong and employing more than 60 people. Her immediate plan in the near future is to extend her business to major overseas markets.

Of equal significance is her participation since 1984 in the Hong Kong Council of Early Childhood Education and Services which addresses major issues affecting the welfare of the young. One of Flora's most important contributions is the "Our Children's Bus" concept, a service which will commence shortly.

On top of her business and family commitments, Flora is also a member of the Playright Association, the Arts for the Disabled Association, as well as Chairwoman of the Hong Kong Ballet Group.

Chow Kit-Bing, Jennifer

Challenging Traditions to Break New Grounds

Jennifer grew up in a conservative family which does not believe that girls need much education. She started her first job as a clerk after completing secondary school. However, determined to improve herself, Jennifer studied accounting in her spare time. Her last job before starting her own business was as an accountant in a furniture company.

Jennifer's enterprising spirit led her to start her own furniture business in 1979. In 1985, she pioneered the establishment of a furniture business in the Shekou Special Economic Zone selling modern furniture and equipment to the local and foreign firms — a risky move which no other companies had dared to attempt. Despite all difficulties, Jennifer's vision proved to be a great success. Today, her business extends from Shekou to Guangzhou, from Hong Kong to Canada, once again demonstrating her foresight and entrepreneurial spirits.

Jennifer firmly believes that a stable social and economic environment is fundamental to business growth in a society. She therefore volunteers her time and energy to community work, joining the Hong Kong Jayceettes and was elected President of the organization in 1986. She has been an elected member of the Eastern District Board since 1988 and Chairman of the Causeway Bay North Area Committee since 1989. In addition, she also conducts public relation courses and seminars in Shekou, Shenzhen, Canton and Zhongshan.

To build a sense of belonging and commitment among young people in Hong Kong, Jennifer established the Hong Kong International Council of Young Leaders Ltd to provide leadership training for youngsters. Her positive attitude to life and her dedication to the community is a true inspiration for young people in Hong Kong.

Fung Wing-kee, Raymond
馮 永 基

Dual Attainments in Art and Architecture

Raymond is a renowned artist in Chinese brush painting and a widely-respected young architect by profession. Over the years, he has won numerous local and international awards through his artistic creations and his work has been admired and praised by critics in Europe, North America, Australia and Asia.

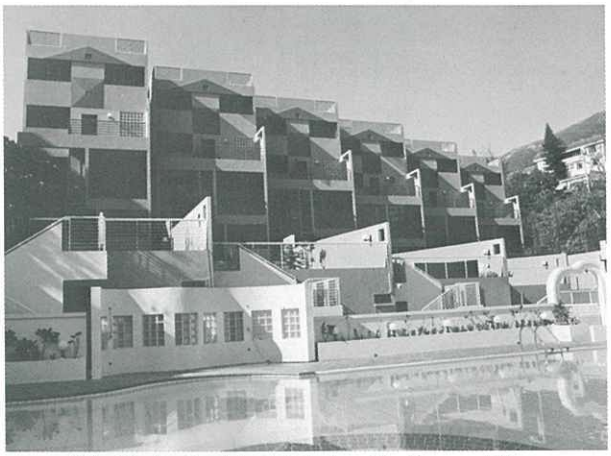

Fatherless when he was only eight months old, Raymond had a difficult childhood and was only able to finance his primary and secondary education through the Jockey Club Subsidy for Poor Students Scheme. Later in life, determined to further his education abroad, he worked as a beverage porter and eventually, managed to put aside a modest savings to allow him to set on his journey to the United States in 1973. Returning to Hong Kong five years later, Raymond has since worked as a architect in both the private and public sector. His more notable achievements include his involvement in China projects.

In 1984, Raymond was one of the founding members of the "Ink movement" formed by a group of Hong Kong artistis seeking to promote local art. He also organized the World Environmental Day Art Show and Auction in 1989 and has contributed his works to the World Wild Fund for Nature.

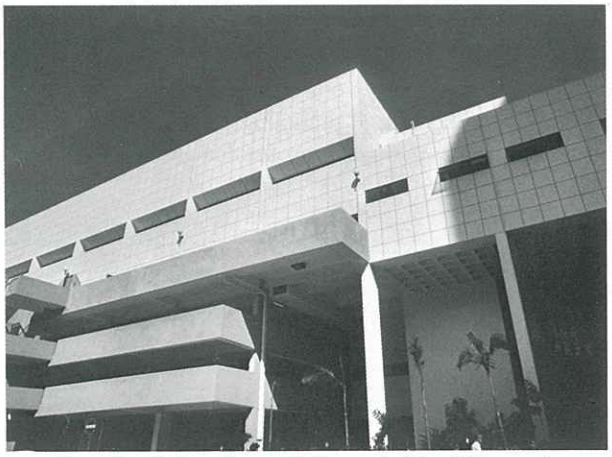

Raymond has impressed his contemporaries with his multi-faceted talents, his passion for art and his persevering character unshaken in the most difficult of times. His example is truly a role model for today's young people.

Ip Hing-Leung, Thomas

A true Professional Who Brings Long-lasting Benefits to the Community

Thomas did not have a happy childhood. Leaving school at a very young age, he had a job as janitor until he was 13, when he had the opportunity to resume schooling. Since then, Thomas has worked very hard towards his goals in the dentistry profession and has become a prominent member in the field in Hong Kong.

Thomas's interest in dentistry stems from the poor dental treatment he received as a child. Thus, today, as a dental surgeon, he devotes himself to the profession and in particular, to the advancement of dental education and services in Hong kong.

One of his most significant achievements is the establishment of the Estate Dentists Group in 1987. Prior to then, sites for new dental clinics in low-cost housing estates had always been put to tender, therefore substantially increasing the cost of treatment to patients in the housing estate. Now, through the programme organised by Thomas, sites are allocated by ballots to interested members of the Estate Dentist Group.

Thomas is also instrumental in educating the public through the organization of dental exhibitions in housing estates. These programmes have been successful in addressing general misconceptions on dental career. In addition, he has set up his own clinic in a housing estate to cater for the needs of the elderly and handicapped people. As a contribution to the community, he also provides dental services to patients at the Shek Kwu Chau Drug Rehabilitation Centre and the Ruttonjee Centre for Tuberculosis.

Thomas is a true professional who is dedicated to improving the image and standards of his profession. He contributes his energy across the board and is seen to be an instigator of many dental programmes that have brought long-lasting benefits to the community.

Lo Chi-kin
盧 子 健

A Man of Vision

After almost four years of studies at the University of Hong Kong Medical School, Chi-kin decided to switch his major to political science — a move prompted by his strong interest and concerns on international affairs, and more specifically, on China.

From HKU, he moved to the London School of Economics where he obtained his doctorate degree in 1987. On returning to Hong Kong the same year, he joined Ming Pao as a reporter, quickly rising to the rank of Managing Editor in only two years. Recently, to widen his exposure in the social and economic scene, Chi-kin took up a managerial position in the business sector but continues to be an active commentator and a regular columnist on current affairs and issues impacting Hong Kong.

His concern for public affairs has led to his appointment this year to the newly-established Youth Commission by the Government. Sometimes described by his peers as the "prototype of the new generation," he is vocal and unfearful of unpopularity. Chi-kin epitomized a model youth in realizing his ideals, while at the same time, cultivating his social awareness and sense of responsibility. With less than four years of work experience, he has come a long way in his career and possesses a clear vision of his future goals.

Spreading Warmth and Light to a Worthy Cause — Against Child Abuse

Priscilla devotes herself to social services throughout her working life. After receiving a Diploma in Sociology in 1976, Priscilla began her career as a social worker. In 1979, she became the Administrator of Against Child Abuse (ACA), an organisation which had been set up in 1978 following publicity surrounding a disturbing child abuse case in Kwun Tong. Priscilla later undertook a Master's course in Social Work at the University of Hong Kong and subsequently became the Director of ACA.

Since then, Priscilla has been instrumental in developing this important social service in Hong Kong. She constantly educates the community on child abuse issues, handling cases personally, training staff, lobbying the Government and raising funds. From a modest beginning in 1978, ACA today has two centres offering valuable services to families in Hong Kong.

Abroad, Priscilla has attended various conferences and recently conducted a training course on child protection for senior social workers in Taiwan. Additionally, through her committee membership of the Council for Social Services, Priscilla is forging links with China in this field and is currently planning a programme to educate mainland China on problems and issues of child abuse.

Priscilla also finds time to address other issues relating to young children, being Vice-Chairperson of the Council of Early Childhood Education and Services and a member of the Pre-Primary Policy Alliance Committee. As a result of her earlier work with the deaf, Priscilla uses sign language and is often called upon to serve as interpreter in court.

Exceptionally pleasant, articulate and possessing a sense of humour, Priscilla offered tremendous service to a relatively new field in social welfare. She is a pioneer who sets an excellent role model for young people in Hong Kong.

In Pursuit of Personal Ideals in Contemporary Dance

Willy is a pioneer in the promotion of contemporary dance in Hong Kong. As Founder and Artistic Director of the City Contemporary Dance Company, he has devoted himself to the promotion of Hong Kong's unique culture through modern dance. Since its inception in 1979, CCDC has played a significant role in promoting not only contemporary dance but also contemporary influence in other art forms such as painting, drama, music and multi-media arts in Hong Kong.

Willy discovered his interest in modern dance at the age of 15 when he attended a dance performance, mesmerized by the use of the human body to convey a message. He kept his interest to himself and it was not until his return from the United States in 1977 that he brought up the subject with his family. With a gift of HK$500,000 from his mother, he founded the City Contemporary Dance Company in 1979, a non-profit making organisation which has since gained solid reputation in modern dance. Today, the Company is in constant search to break new grounds and attempt unusual combinations of refreshing representation of dance in Hong Kong. In 1985, in recognition of his achievements in the dance profession, Willy was appointed by the Government as a member of the Council for the Performing Arts Dance Committee. Willy was also the recipient of Dance of the year 1988 Awards from the Hong Kong Artists' Guild.

Apart from his devotion to contemporary dance, Willy, who holds an MBA degree, also runs the family business and plays a major role in planning the overall strategy of the Company.

Johnston is fully devoted to social services in Hong Kong. After completing his university education in Canada in 1975, Johnston joined the Hong Kong Federation of Youth Groups, an organization where he had spent 12 years working on a wide range of youth projects to promote social awareness on juvenile issues. In 1988, Johnston was appointed International and Regional Officer by the Hong Kong Council of Social Services responsible for promoting international exchanges and understanding of social services across nations.

On top of his professional duties, Johnston has been an elected member of the Shatin District Board for the past five-and-a-half years, leading an influential role on policy issues impacting the welfare of the local residents of Shatin. He was instrumental in researching and recommending the 'tidal flow system' for de-congesting the Lion Rock Tunnel, a proposal which was eventually accepted and implemented by the Government. In addition, Johnston has set in motion the plan for improving the water quality of the Shing Mun River, once again demonstrating his genuine concern for the welfare of the territory.

Johnston has impressed his peers with his drive and initiatives to put ideas into practice. His achievements are widespread and he has indeed touched many people through his commitment and devotion to the social welfare of Hong Kong.

Aspiring to Popularize Classical Music in Hong Kong

Born in a family of music devotees, Wing-sie has taken her parents' footsteps in developing a career in classical music. Her most notable achievement came in 1985 when she won the first prize as well as the "Lyre d'or" trophy in the 35th Concours International des Jeunes, Chefs d'orchestre de Besancon, France — the same honour awarded to the world-renowned conductor Seiji Ozawa in 1959.

Wing-sie received her first piano lessons from her mother at the age of four and training in music theory and conducting from her father, Dr. Yip Wai-hong, in her early teens. Between 1972 and 1978 Wing-sie toured extensively in Southeast Asia, Australia, Europe and the United States with the Hong Kong Children's Choir and was appointed conducting assistant for the choir's 1987 U.S. concert tour.

INTRODUCING TOYPA

Objectives

The Outstanding Young Persons' Association, TOYPA in short, was formed in 1977. The Association is made up of awardees of the Ten Outstanding Young Persons Selection. Membership of TOYPA exceeds one hundred persons.

The Ten Outstanding Young Persons Selection, introduced to Hong Kong in 1970, is an annual major project of the Hong Kong Junior Chamber of Commerce. Each year the award is open to nominations by the public. After the process of carefully vetting candidates' data by an appointed auditor firm, the candidates are presented to a Judging Panel consisting of recognised leaders in government, business, industries, various professions and education. Merits are given to the candidates' achievements in their respective fields as well as their contributions of personal time and efforts in service for the community.

The Outstanding Young Persons' Award not only gives proper recognition to the achievements of the recipients, but also carries with it certain responsibilities. All of those selected as Outstanding Young Persons are expected to make further contributions to the community of Hong Kong and to serve as inspirational examples to other young people. It was with this spirit that recipients of the Award work as a united group to serve the community.

The aims of TOYPA are:—

1. To sponsor and organise projects for the well-being of people in Hong Kong.
2. To submit recommendations/proposals to the Government or relevant authorities on matters pertaining to the welfare of Hong Kong.
3. To assist in the annual selection of the Ten Outstanding Young Persons.

TOYPA membership covers diverse industries and professions and includes a number of members serving on the Executive Council, Legislative Council, Urban Council, Regional Council, District Boards, Drafting Committee for the Basic Law of Hong Kong SAR, Consultative Committee for the Basic Law of Hong Kong SAR, and National People's Congress of the PRC.

Since inception, TOYPA has organised and sponsored numerous projects for community service, spending over $1 million. All financial resources for service projects originated from funds raised. TOYPA's principle in service projects is the involvement of members' participation. In all projects organised, co-organised or sponsored by TOYPA, members take an active role in the organising work.
